FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dear Friends:

The following information may be useful to you or to someone you know.

Regards,
Representative Donna Rowland

Is your frustration level rising? Not up to speed on the latest technology skills? Do you need to search for a job, but don't know how to use a computer? Well, knowledge is just a click away at the Smyrna Public Library. Check out the free computer classes available at began the first of April.

During April and May, Smyrna Public Library will offer the following classes: Basic Computer Skills; Introduction to the Internet, Introduction to E-Mail, Microsoft Word, Microsoft Excel, Advanced Excel, Resume Workshop and Job Searching on the Internet.

All Smyrna classes require advanced registration. Class schedules and descriptions can be found at www.linebaugh.org.

Because class size is limited, participants must register in advance for the class.

Registration for each class begins on the Monday prior to the class. A library card in good standing is required.

For more information or to register for Smyrna Library classes, call (615) 459-4884. Smyrna Public Library is located at 400 Enon Springs Road West.
